

What people had to say about “Love and Logic”.

“I appreciated the opportunity to share my frustrations and concerns of parenting a toddler in a safe, non-threatening environment. It was nice to have a meal with other parents and getting to know them a little better. We’ve all been there when we’re at our wits ends, but sometimes it’s reassuring to know that you’re not the only one. Like any program, you take the pieces that work for you. Love and logic gave me many new tools to refill the Parenting Toolbox.”

We enjoyed the classes immensely. It’s the second time we took it, but we got even more out of it than we did the first time. My wife Gina mentioned that the suggestion of just holding our five-year-old while she cried or tantrum was worth the entire cost of the class. For myself, it reinforced for me to empathize before moving on to an intervention or strategy, so the child knows you care and to keep my head on straight before I trumped into my drill sergeant mode which is my tendency. Thanks for helping us be better parents, happier people and helping us raise happier, better-behaved kids.

This class “love and Logic” is very practical and have already made success in empowering Kayla with choices. Childcare was very personal and positive for Kayla. She looked forward to coming to see her new friends and play. I know it’s not easy to create such a happy place for the kids. The meals were all very good and the desserts were a nice treat too!

There was a schedule every night and it was followed very well. Good planning.

Good Question/Answered period during class.

Good comfortable class environment.

Tapes are repetitive, but still entertaining and educational.

We enjoyed the class it was fun.

We’re better parents after this class.

I wonder if there’s a sequel to the class?

Teachers were experienced/parents that use “Love and Logic”.

I’m very thankful and grateful for the church and all of you who invested time and effort into this empowering experience.

Sincerely, Jesse

This “Love and Logic course has literally changed my life with my three year old. In one week of using ‘Oh’ and ‘How sad’”. My son immediately changes his behavior. I have never felt comfortable raising my voice, spanking, etc. Now, I don’t have too. The best part is that I am not the bad guy, the behavior is, and it is his choice. I am so grateful to have found this course and hope it helps many other parents like it has helped me.

Logic and Logic comments:

Excellent teachers!!!

The hospitality was superb!!!

Meals were well rounded and delicious.

Thank you for your attitude of humility and service. It was great. Even having someone else cleared my dirty dishes what a pleasant addition to the class.

Tips were great practical and useful. I particularly enjoyed the stories and easy to implement suggestions given in the video.

My kids enjoyed the compassionate and fun childcare providers.

Thanks, Sarah Provence
